Medicare Tough On Small Hospital

BY TROY MARTIN

Medicare is tough on small hospitals.

This is the opinion of Ray Grimes, administrator of Neblett Memorial Hospital in Canyon.

Record keeping runs into mountains of paper and the federal government pays off on medicare bills according to cost rates it sets itself.

"We are required to treat medicare patients at cost," Grimes explained.

Grimes said that if a medicare patient is billed for $1 and the government decides that the treatment costs only 90 cents then the hospital gets only 90 cents.

"They allow us no profit and nothing for operation of the hospital," he declared.

"Our main objection is that their idea of cost and the hospital's idea of cost vary and vary greatly in some areas.

"Medicare doesn't even allow for bad debt expense unless it is directly related to a medicare patient,"

Grimes said the allowance for depreciation is less than realistic. "Under medicare a hospital's efficiency is penalized rather than rewarded," the administrator went on.

Grimes said the government once allowed 2 percent above what medicare determined as cost but that this was curtailed several months ago.

Hospitals smaller than Neblett are penalized even to a greater extent, Grimes declared. "The records required by medicare and cost reports are probably too burdensome for a very small hospital to keep," he asserted.

"Our paper load has increased but if we were forced to keep every record they want, it would be increased many times. "I've been told that it is impossible for a hospital under 100 beds to keep all the records medicare wants.

"They even want to know how much linen is used in the laboratory operating room and other departments. They told us to weigh it.

"They want you to do cost accounting and use their idea of cost."

Grimes said his hospital is required to submit periodically a complicated medicare report. Then the report is audited. He says he believes the cost of the audit is often more than the benefits paid.

He noted that accreditation--a distinction not given some hospitals in small towns--has kept the procedure from being even more complicated. He said that if the hospital were not accredited it would be subject to rigid medicare inspection.

Grimes said that medicare patients account for 30 percent of Neblett's patient days.

City Of Happy Given Certificate For Entering Governor's Contest

The city of Happy was recognized recently at the Governor's Beautification Contest in Austin for the work its residents had done in beautifying the town.

Mrs. D. L. Allison of Happy accepted the certificate given to the Chamber of Commerce.

She is a member of the Community Council and is co-ordinator of the Community Center in Happy.

Happy was the only Panhandle town to enter the contest, she said.

Three cities were awarded silver placques and were designated winners in the contest.

"All three cities had a population of 12,000 or more. Happy can't possibly compete with towns of that size," she said.

Next year the contest will have three divisions, she said.

"We hope that the towns will be divided into categories according to size," she said.

This is the third contest Happy has entered in recent years, Mrs. Allison said.

The town entered the Texas Extension Service Contest and is now involved in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Blue Ribbon City Contest.

Inch Rain At Umbarger, Area Sparse

Rains in the Canyon-Randall County area ranged from a spotty .20 at the entrance to Palo Duro Park to 1.19 at the Anton Handing place near Umbarger.

The Sheriff's Office in Canyon reported, .70.

John Brazzill, Randall County agent, said, "The areas I have been around in the county the showers have been varied. Apparently there are places in the county that have gotten rains above an inch. Others are pretty short."

"It will be of some help to us. In a few communities the rains were just barely enough to go ahead and finish up dry land sorghum planting and maybe plant some hay crops."

"We are still lacking moisture. This is not adequate to do the job we need done for us. It will not make a major difference in our grasslands. We are still not out of the woods as far as rain over the county to do the job needed."

Boy Suffers Burns On Feet

Third degree burns resulted from standing on a storm door covered with a tin sheet recently.

Barefooted Kevin Ehly, 2, was playing on a tractor-type kiddie car and scooted it onto the storm door.

"When he realized how hot it was instead of getting off, he just jumped up and down and screamed," said his mother, Mrs. Vincent Ehly of 900 17th Street.

Residents Welcome Mrs. Bentsen

Approximately 60 Canyon residents turned out Tuesday afternoon to meet Mrs. Lloyd Bentsen, Jr., wife of U.S. Senatorial Candidate Lloyd Bentsen.

Mrs. Bentsen arrived at Hunsley Hills Club to meet area residents as part of her tour of the Plains Trail. She is currently traveling eight of the Texas Trails meeting people and especially "seeing the historical spots."

Tuesday evening she attended a performance of 'TEXAS' at Pioneer Amphitheatre in Palo Duro Canyon and Wednesday she continued a circle of the Texas Panhandle on the Plains Trail with visits to Amarillo, Borger, Dumas, Boys Ranch, Hereford, and Levelland.

Chairman for the reception was George Dowlen, Randall County District Attorney. Hostesses for the occasions were Mesdames Glenn Dowlen, Frank Kembrough, Woody Pond, L.S. Johnston, Lonnie Byars, Virgina Cotton, and T.B. McCarder.

Traveling with Mrs. Bentsen is her press secretary, Miss Kelle Snyder of Fort Worth.

Visiting with Mrs. Lloyd Bentsen, Jr., at a reception held in her honor Tuesday were George Dowlen, Mrs. Lonnie Byars, Mrs. Woody Pond (seated) and Mrs. Glenn Dowlen.

Canyon families are expected to pack picnic lunches under the trees and watch a display of fireworks beginning at sunset. H.R. Fulton and Winston Hall will be shooting off the night works.

Hall estimates the fireworks will last about two hours. "We have twice as many as last year." Providing the display are members of the Lions Club, Rotary, Kiwanis, the Cham-

Water Use Sets Record

More water was used in Canyon in June than in any previous month, according to William Wieser of the water department.

According to figures released by the water department, 75,982,000 gallons of water were used in June.

"That's the largest month Canyon has ever had," Wieser said.

Previously, July, 1969 had been the largest month with 73,398,000 gallons being used.

The largest single day in June saw 4,197,000 gallons being used. This was a record day, Wieser said. The previous record was a day in July of last year with 4,011,000 gallons used.

Figures for the month of June in previous years is as follows:

Photographer Follows 'Texas Plains Trail'

A dapper gentleman will be in this area sometime this week perching in tree-tops, hanging from cliffs and grinding away with a big movie camera at the surrounding scenery.

He is Immanuel Olshan, a prominent Houston businessman and camera bug who has volunteered to produce at no cost an extensive color "travelogue" film depicting the "Ten Trails of Texas". He is making the movie under the auspices of the Texas Tourist Development Agency and the travel development division of the Texas Highway Department.

He will be in the Canyon area this week some time to film scenes which will be part of a tourist travelogue movie of the TEXAS PLAINS TRAIL.

Olshan is president of Olshan Enterprises of Houston, which includes an eight-acre lumber company, a demolishing company and a house moving company. He is also widely known as a world-traveler, and his hobby for many years has been producing travel films for showing before civic groups and social clubs.

Olshan said production of the entire film will require about one and one-half years to complete. He will travel about 20,000 miles, in every corner of the state, in order to film all the trails.

According to the Houstonian, "I've spent a lot of time in many parts of the globe, but I have always considered Texas to be one of the most beautiful areas of the world, if visitors only know where to look. Texas has a special flavor, romance and history, which can be found nowhere else. I am most happy to have a part in persuading more people to find out for themselves what a wonderful state Texas really is."

The "Ten Texas Trails" have been plotted so as to get the motorist off the expressways and throughways and onto the little-traveled hard-surfaced roads, where he can appreciate the "real" Texas.

Special care has been taken to include areas that can also offer unique entertainment and food, cultural, historical and beauty attractions and convenient accommodations.

Routes were programmed over existing hard-surfaced roads primarily farm-to-market and state highways. Easy-to-follow blue and white signs have been erected along the trails. Brochures containing maps and descriptions of attractions on the tourways are available.

The tourways extend over 6,200 miles, slicing across 162 of the state's 254 counties. Averaging 600 miles in length, each trail has a special historic flavor and personality. The trails include: The Tropical Trail, covering Padre Island and the Rio Grande Valley; The Forest Trail (East Texas); The Lakes Trail (Central Texas); The Mountain Trail (which includes Big Bend National Park); The Forts Trail; The Independence Trail; The Plains Trail; The Brazos Trail; The Pecos Trail; and The Hill Country Trail.

Photographing the "Texas Trails" is Immanuel Olshan of Houston. Olshan will be in Canyon this week to film parts of the Plains Trail attractions including Palo Duro Canyon, the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, the 'TEXAS' production and the old T-Anchor headquarters.

Board Votes Parking Bids

Canyon school board Monday night voted to ask for bids on preparation of some 160 new parking places, mostly at the rear of Canyon High School building.

The work will also include drainage and paving of the area. The architect set the estimated cost of the project at about $14,000.

The board also studied a master plan for development of the high school plant.

Superintendent Jerry Jacobs told the group that the most pressing need at the present is for dressing room space.

Board members decided to authorize the school to construct a fence around the vocational agriculture shop.

Registration Is Continuing

Children who will be five years old on or before Sept. 1 are eligible to enroll for the fall weekday kindergarten being offered by the First United Methodist Church, according to Mattie Sue Howell, church secretary.

The kindergarten is being offered as a result of a decision by the administrative board of the church recently.

Enrollment may be limited to 15 or 20 children.

Registration fee is $5 and tuition is $20 a month, she said.

The kindergarten will be taught by Mrs. Earline Moreman, an experienced teacher of children, according to Miss Howell.

Classes will be from 8:30

Friday Closings

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce has recommended that Canyon businesses close on Saturday, July 4, according to Roland Black, Chamber director.

Businesses that are normally closed Saturday will take a Friday holiday.

Included are all Randall County offices, First National Bank, West Texas State Bank, Southwestern Public Service, Southwestern Bell Telephone, Pioneer Gas and the City of Canyon.

Mary Moody Northen, representing the Moody foundation which has presented Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation with a grant of $50,000, was honored at the opening performance of 'TEXAS'. She was presented a golden triangle and a bouquet of yellow Texas roses.

Part Of Wall Is Dedicated

A section of the historical wall at the Pioneer Amphitheatre in Palo Duro Canyon was dedicated Friday at the opening of 'TEXAS' to the Moody Foundation.

As representative of the Foundation, Mary Moody Northen of Galveston was on hand to accept the thanks of the Panhandle Heritage Foundation and to receive a golden triangle and yellow Texas roses.

The Moody Foundation has recently made $50,000 available to the Panhandle Heritage Foundation to provide a reserve which can be drawn against to underwrite cost of production. Proceeds from the production are used to write off a $100,000 indebtedness accrued with opening of the production five years ago.

Founded by the late William Lewis Moody Jr., the Foundation has as its direction, "the promotion of health, science, education and advancement and diffusion of knowledge and understanding among the people of Texas."

Mrs. Northen is the oldest of the four Moody children and on the death of her father, assumed the management of his business.

She first viewed 'TEXAS' in 1968 when she left a groundbreaking ceremony for a Young Men's Christian Association building in Odessa early and in order to arrive in Canyon in time for the "TEXAS" performance.

Mrs. Northen is director of the Texas State Historical Foundation. Members of this group met in Amarillo and were at the Amphitheatre for the opening of the 1970 season.

Trustees of the Moody Foundation are: Paul Haas, Chairman, in investments in Corpus Christi; S. Marcus Greer, Houston, banker; and Mrs. Northen, Galveston, finance and chairman of the board of Moody National Bank.

BY ANN BROWN

Perhaps the most destructive philosophy currently popular in America is the contention that every man should let his conscience be his guide. Does a man lost in a forest depend on his conscience or his compass?

This philosophy is not new,of course. It is the same one that enabled Eve to eat the forbidden fruit, and Cain to kill his brother Abel.

Probably there is never a major controversy without intelligent men with firm convictions taking one side of the issue, while equally intelligent men stand equally firm on the other side of the argument. How are such controversies to be resolved?

There is a growing number of people who do not believe that sending young men out to kill each other is the best way to solve conflicts. But as long as man's conscience is his sole guide, violence will continue.

The more one learns about any subject, the more he realizes there is to learn, and the less sure he is that he knows all the answers. If the most learned men do not know all the answers even in their own restricted fields, how is any man expected to know all the answers about life itself?

What does a visitor do when he drives into a strange city? Does he rely on the dictates of his conscience or intuition to lead him to his destination in some remote area?

If he is intelligent he secures a city map,locates his own position on it, finds his destination, and marks the best course between the two. And regardless of his personal feelings in the matter, he follows the directions on the map, and verifies them with the street signs and house numbers along the route.

If one cannot even negotiate a strange city without an objective, reliable guide, how can he expect to get through life otherwise?

Does man have a compass for living? There is one that men have been following for centuries that is reported to be reliable. Men who have been following it from one to 90 years are willing to stake their lives here and hereafter on its validity. They have tried it and found it true.

Billy Graham may very well be the most popular man in the world. He has personally addressed some 50 million people in all the continents on earth. More than 1.5 million of them have made public commitments to follow his Guide.

Many more millions have been influenced by his TV and radio broadcasts. His radio program is carried on more than 800 stations each week. His daily newspaper column, "My Answer," appears in newspapers with daily circulations of 22 million. His magazine goes to 4 million subscribers monthly. And he has published 10 books that have sold millions of copies.

Surely such an intelligent, successful man could safely let his conscience be his guide. But has anyone ever known Dr. Graham to make a positive statement that he did not immediately qualify? He says, "I know it is true because the Bible says it is." And he constantly declares certain scriptures true because he has tried and proved them.

A brilliant science professor confessed having once devised a final examination that he knew was a perfect test of his students' knowledge of the subject matter and ability to use it. And he was sure it would take them the recommended two hours to answer his one all-inclusive question. He specified a complicated scientific experiment, and he asked them how they would conduct it.

In less than two minutes, his most brilliant scholar handed in her paper. A very shocked professor hastily checked her answer; humbly he gave her an A. He had to admit his student had been wiser than her teacher. The girl's answer was: "I would get the manual and follow it to the letter."

From a cake to a cathedral one must have a plan to construct it. If every small facet of life must follow objective directions to be successful, does not life itself need a master plan? Which is likely to be a better guide for our lost, confused generation: conscience or compass?

Children Host Family Reunion

The children of Mr. and Mrs. H.S. Strain, former Canyon residents, have been holding a family reunion this past week.

Thirty-three members of the family have been hosted in the homes of Mrs. J.D. Barker, Mrs. Mary Thomas and Mrs. C. Petruccione.

Present for the reunion from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Stough of San Jose, Calif, and their three sons, a daughter-in-law and two grandchildren; Dr. and Mrs. W.S. Strain of El Paso and their daughter and son-in-law; Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Bell; Mrs. Brian Tolliver and son from Mountainview, Calif., and Mrs. Ann Singleton and three children from Ardmore, Okla.

Also attending were the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Barker; children of Mrs. Mary Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Thomas and Sandra of Hereford; and Mr. and Mrs. George Schwab and two daughters of Glastenberry, Conn.

The group had worked for two years to prepare for the first family reunion they had had in 20 years, according to Mrs. Petruccione.

New Pool Hours Set At Center

New hours for the swimming pool in the Activities Center have been set according to swim coach Bob Conner.

During the summer the pool will be open from 12 noon until 10 p.m. Monday through Saturday. It will open from 1-10:30 p.m. on Sunday.

The Activities Center is opening from 9 a.m. until 11p.m. each day.

Gardening Workshop Draws Residents

Approximately 130 persons attended a plant workshop at the Amarillo Garden Center this past week.

County agent John Brazzil and Potter County Agent Gaines Franks cooperated with the Amarillo Council of Garden Clubs to host the meeting.

Brazzil estimates that at least half of the participants were from Randall County.

Experts on hand were from the Texas A&M extension and research services. They included Everett Janne, land horticulturist from College Station; Dr. Robert Berry, plant pathologist, Dr. Don Rummel, entymologist, and James Rogers, agronomist, all of the Extension Service in Lubbock; and Dr. Allen Wiese of the Bushland Experiment Station.

Brazzil stated, "This was an effort to help people with landscape problems. People brought in specimens of insects, plant disease, and soil samples."

Some brought plants for identification and some brought landscaping plans and asked advice on the projects. Advice on landscaping, what will grow best where and what the best use of various plants may be was directed by Janne.

Advice was also requested on the correct use of chemicals and on soils and fertilizers.

Most common problems found were needle blight on evergreens, red spiders and iron chlorosis, an absence of iron that causes yellowing of leaves in grasses and trees.

Brazzil said this workshop will continue as an annual event and hopes to be able to schedule it in spring and fall in years to come.

Swimmers Training With Coach Bob Connor

Youngsters in the AAU swim program work out twice each day at the Olympic pool in the Activities Center under the direction of WTSU coach Bob Connor. They will be eligible for AAU regional competition.

Olympics bound? Maybe.

"This may be what some of them have in mind," said WTSU swimming coach Bob Connor of eight youngsters he coaches each morning and afternoon.

The training they receive compares with Olympic-type training.

Most of the kids started in Amateur Athletic Union age group swimming programs. "Actually these young people swim now in age group programs," Connor said. "Senior swimming is geared toward competition."

The swimmers include Odile Zientek, who placed 25th in the 1500 mete U.S. national AAU competitions in Louisville, Ky., last summer. Odile is 16.

Nancy Ryan, at 21 the oldest of the bunch,works out with the group each day. She has been a member of the two world record relay teams as a member of the Santa Clara Swim Club.

Sherry Page, 12, is the youngest member of the group. Next is Sybil Dawson, 13; Larry Page, 14; Martha Puckett and Marilyn Clack, both 16; and Charlie Puckett, 17.

Each morning they swim two and one-half hours and another two hours each afternoon. They cover a minimum of eight miles a day and have swum over 182 miles since June 1.

According to Connor they are competing against time standards set by the AAU. "To qualify for national championship competition is an honor in itself." To reach national competition they must first qualify in sanctioned regional AAU meets which are held almost weekly in the summertime around the county.

"The first meet Odile will hit will be the International Santa Clara Swim Club meet July 10, 11 and 12." Connor said.

Each day in the workouts the swimmers work with a kick board to build their legs. They also swim with feet banded together to strenthen shoulders and stroke. Working out in the Olympic-sized pool at the Activities Center, they swim in 100 meter segments against the clock as they try to improve their time. One hundred meters is two lengths of the 165 foot pool.

Connor noted, "It takes a lot of courage to push yourself this hard. Stamina has to be built up. For example, last year I couldn't get more than six miles per day out of them. I cut the little 12-year-old down on distance."

"They have to set a goal and work toward it. These kids will consume more food than other kids. Right now they are exhausted and sore."

In discussing the possibility of having a regular swimming team at WTSU, Connor stated, "We have one of the greatest facilities in the U.S. to have a team here." The Missouri Valley Conference competes in swimming.

Connor swam for four years at Oklahoma University under Matt Mann. Mann coached 13 national college championship teams. He was an all American in the 15 meter free style in college and rated second in the 100-yard free style.

At age 14 he was second in the 200-400 yard free style in the United States. Connor coached one year at OU. He has been at West Texas State four years.

WTSU coach Bob Connor times swimmers working out each day at the Activities Center. Youngsters in the AAU swimming program cover about 8 miles each day.

Self-Concept Study Subject

The extent to which a college student is religiously active is positively related to his self-concept, a new study by a West Texas State University graduate sociologist concludes.

Clyde A. Hudgins of Amarillo conducted a study of the religious activities and attitudes of students at West Texas State for his master's thesis.

He became the first student to receive the new Master of Arts Degree in sociology at the university last spring.

Hudgins, 27, says the most active students religiously tend to feel as if they are meeting the problems of social living more adequately than the less active students.

Hudgins, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Hudgins of 1600 LaSalle, Amarillo, has accepted a teaching position at San Antonio College, San Antonio, next fall. He is married to the former Joan Wallace of Amarillo, also a West Texas State graduate.

Graduates Plan Annual Reunion

Graduates of the Canyon High School Class of 1949 will have their annual reunion Sunday at 4 p.m. in Conner Park. The group has met each year for a reunion since graduation, according to Mrs. Dick Barrett, member of the class.

"We haven't missed a year yet," she said.

Up until last year, the class met in the winter, usually on Dec. 26, she said.

"Last year we changed it to the summer and we liked it so well, we decided to leave it that way," she said.

"We hope that by having it in the summer, more people will be able to attend. Usually we have about 10 people attend the reunions, and the number has been getting smaller each year," she said.

"We are expecting a larger crowd this year, though," she added

Of the 40 members of the class, four are now living in Canyon, she said. Several are in the Amarillo area. Others are now living in Louisiana, Lubbock, Dallas, Fort Worth and Colorado, she said.

Farmer Brown and his daughter, Betty Hancock of Albuquerque, are leaving for Germany July 2. They plan to visit Brown's daughter Susan and her husband who have been stationed in Stutegart for three years. Other plans include visiting some of the nearby countries. They will return in mid-August.

The Pioneer Social Club met Thursday in the home of the president Mrs. C.W. Dunn for the last meeting until August.

The next meeting will be a picnic in the Girl Scout House on Aug. 28, according to Mrs. John Hilgenfeld, reporter.

Nine members and two visitors were present at the meeting at which Mrs. H.C. Gentry gave the devotional. She read "Way to the Greatest" by Herbert Hoover and "Duty and Honor to Country" by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The members sang "Home on the Range," the club song, and sent get-well cards to the members who were ill.

Present at the meeting were Mesdames Dunn, Hilgenfeld, Gentry, Lewis Harvey, J.P. Hammons, Ray Walters, T.T. Fain, Floral Middleton, and J.W. Stewart.

Visitors were Mrs. Addie Lyle and Mrs. Carl Whitfield.

CFC Selects New Officers

Officers were elected recently by the Canyon Federated Council in the home of Mrs. Crews Henry, 1303 3rd Ave.

Mrs. Henry was named president.

Other officers included Mrs. Lynn Blewitt, vice president; Mrs. Weyman Brown, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Carter, treasurer.

The group is continuing in its project to build a new library for Canyon by giving book reviews, according to Mrs. Brown.

"We are planning a Christmas card project," she said. "We want to have a drive for people who would send Christmas cards to others living in Canyon to donate their Christmas card money instead to a fund for the library. Around Christmas we plan to place an ad in the paper with the names of everyone who donated money to the fund."

The group is also planning an all-club dinner Nov. 2. Mrs. Kermit Lawson, district president from Pampa, will be the guest speaker.

Monday Set As Beginning Of FHA Drive

Monday marks the beginning of the annual Pop-Bottle Raid sponsored by the Future Homemakers of America at Canyon High School.

The girls will be knocking on doors and asking for pop bottles which they will trade for money at Taylor and Son's Supermarket.

The proceeds from the drive will be used to finance the annual Parent-Daughter Banquet in the spring. Usually the club collects around $100 from the drive.

About 15 members are expected to participate in the drive.
